ELVIS WHITE SUPPORTS THE RED CROSS WITH A STELLAR PERFORMANCE AT THE 2ND ANNUAL RED HOT RED CROSS GALA IN SOUTHAMPTON

Atlanta GA, September 1, 2006 --- ELVIS WHITE, one of the most exciting new crossover bands to emerge from the Caribbean, performed to a sold out crowd at the 2nd Annual Red Hot Red Cross Gala and Auction held at the palatial estate of Carol and Todd Rome in SouthHampton NY, August 19th, 2006.

Fashion king Tommy Hilfiger received the organization's Humanitarian Award for his efforts to help victims of Hurricane Katrina. Hilfiger donated over $300,000.00 and 20,000 items of clothing during the relief effort. In addition to Hilfiger, The Red Cross also honored children's rights advocate Sheila Rosenblum and philanthropist Henry Buhl.

The double header entertainment bill included ELVIS WHITE and a special performance by Andrew Hilfiger.

ELVIS WHITE hails from the beautiful British Virgin Islands and is winning over audiences worldwide with their unique blend of heart-pumping Caribbean Reggae/Soca beats. The group's electrifying stage show leaves audiences absolutely begging for more!

"ELVIS WHITE's energy was amazing. People don't usually get up at these gala dinners, but when ELVIS WHITE hit the stage all the tables were empty and everyone was on the dance floor. They totally rocked the house!

ELVIS WHITE and the Red Cross were a great match!"
